

Jack Russell Terrier Club Breed Registry

Application Requirements

The Jack Russell Terrier Club of Canada (JRTCC) administers a Breeding Registry of Jack Russell Terriers. The Registry has been designed specifically to maintain the Jack Russell Terrier as a healthy Working Terrier free from genetic faults and characteristics that would be detrimental.

To register a terrier a member must complete the following application and applicable forms and send the forms to the JRTCC Registration Office. The forms will be checked for completeness and then the application will be judged to determine if the terrier meets the requirements to be issued a Certificate of Registration. If a terrier is not accepted in the registry, but does meet the general criteria for a Jack Russell Terrier, it will be recorded in the JRTCC system. All records on the recorded terrier will be kept on file the same as for the registry, and a Certificate of Recording will be issued which will permit the terrier to qualify for JRTCC Trial and Certificate of Field Worthiness. Terriers will be rejected for Recording if they possess a genetic defect unless spayed or neutered. (Statement from a licensed veterinarian confirming spaying or neutering must accompany a Recording application).

If there are any errors or missing documentation from the application the Registrar will inform the member by mail or email and the member has 60 days to correct and/or supply the required documentation or the application will be closed, the application fee forfeit and the member will have to resubmit the entire application.

To appeal the decision of the judge, submit the appeal, in writing to the JRTCC Board of Directors for review. Include the reasons for the appeal and any supporting documentation. The Board of Directors decision will be final.

The Registration/Recording Certificate will be printed, signed by the Registrar, have the terrier's left and right side photographs attached to the back and the entire document will be laminated. This Certificate will act as the terrier's identification to be used as proof of Registration/Recording.
